Fireflies may be small, but to Gecko, they're a giant problem. In Go to Sleep Gecko!, Gecko has a hard time sleeping with all the fireflies flickering their lights outside his window. And when Gecko doesn't get his rest, he gets a little grumpy. He runs to Elephant's house to file his complaint, and soon a comedic chain of events ensues.

"Go to Sleep, Gecko!" is a Balinese folktale for children. This book won the Flicker Tale Children's Book Award (2008). The book is about a gecko that can't sleep. He tries different things to learn how to sleep but in the end he realizes there are just some things you have to deal with. I really loved how captured this book is.

A crested gecko will usually sleep about 12 hours during the day and will wake up a few hours after dusk and stay up until dawn or early morning. Some crested geckos will sleep a little more or less. Just as is the case with other animals, not all crested geckos are the same and their sleeping habits might differ.
